WSLC SERVICES

The Washington State Labor Council, AFL-CIO provides many services to its affiliated unions, and also administers grant programs designed to offer direct worker assistance. Here is a summary of the services we offer that support our core mission of improving the working conditions and living standards of Washington's working families, plus contacts for more information:

COMMUNICATIONS

The WSLC's Communications program includes its award-winning news service The Stand (www.TheStand.org) and its social media accounts, which publicize the news and events of affiliated unions and community partners. The WSLC is also available to help its affiliates in preparing news releases, publicizing events/campaigns, and developing union communications.

For more information, contact:

David Groves, WSLC Communications Director
— dgroves@wslc.org

Sarah Tucker, WSLC Digital Organizer
— stucker@wslc.org

FOUNDATION FOR WORKING FAMILIES

The Foundation for Working Families is a non-profit organization established by the Washington State Labor Council, AFL-CIO and its affiliates to assist union families in Washington state in times of hardship or disaster. It has given cash assistance to thousands of families who have suffered during flooding, wildfires, and other extraordinary circumstances.

For more information about how to make a donation to the FFWF or how to apply for assistance, visit www.wslc.org/FFWF or contact:

Paul Giering, WSLC Accounting Manager
— FFWF@wslc.org

LEGISLATIVE ADVOCACY

Through collective action we have more power. That's why we organize unions in the first place. The same principle applies when the unions affiliated with the WSLC speak with one strong voice at the State Capitol in Olympia. On issues ranging from collective bargaining to prevailing wage, from unemployment benefits to workers' compensation, the WSLC is the Washington state labor movement's unified voice for working families.

For more information, visit the Legislative Advocacy page at wslc.org or contact:

Sybill Hyppolite, WSLC Government Affairs Director
— shyppolite@wslc.org

John Traynor, WSLC Legislative Director
— jtraynor@wslc.org

NATURALIZATION LEGAL SERVICES

As part of the WSLC's commitment to building power for working people, the WSLC offers naturalization legal services in Yakima Valley. WSLC naturalization legal services are offered at Nuestra Casa in Sunnyside and are limited to naturalization applications for legal permanent residents of the United States who are eligible to become U.S. citizens.

For more information, visit the Naturalization Legal Services page at wslc.org or contact:

Dulce Gutiérrez, WSLC Community, Union & Naturalization Organizer — dgutierrez@wslc.org

POLITICAL ACTION

The WSLC has an aggressive program to educate rank-and-file union members around the state on where political candidates stand on working people's issues. The WSLC's political education program offers instruction and assistance for unions interested in voter registration drives, candidate training, establishing and building political action funds, and communicating with members. It also pioneered the Labor Neighbor program, where union members talk to other union members about issues that matter to working people.

For more information, visit the Political Action page at wslc.org or contact:

Osta Davis, WSLC Political & Special Projects Director — odavis@wslc.org

PROJECT HELP

Jointly administered by the WSLC and the Washington State Department of Labor and Industries, Project Help is a program to assist injured workers in the early and successful resolution of workers' compensation claims. Spanish language claims assistance is also available. Call 1-800-255-9752 to reach Project Help.

For more information, visit its website at ProjectHelpWA.com or contact:

Jessica Gallardo, Project Help Director — jgallardo@wslc.org

Kathy Petruzzelli, Project Help Claims Specialist — kpetruzzelli@wslc.org

Emmanuel Carrillo, Project Help Bilingual Claims Specialist — ecarrillo@wslc.org

ORGANIZING

The WSLC also helps affiliated unions rally community support for organizing drives, contract campaigns, labor events/actions, and more. For more information, contact:

Ingrid Chapman, Statewide Organizing Manager — ichapman@wslc.org

RACIAL AND GENDER JUSTICE

A series of resolutions approved by affiliated unions had led to ground-breaking work by the WSLC on racial justice, gender equity, and the labor movement's responsibility to tackle these issues. Working with community partners, labor educator/writer Bill Fletcher Jr., and the Washington State Labor Education and Research Center, the WSLC developed a Race and Labor workshop that has been presented to thousands of union leaders and rank-and-file member. For more information, contact:

Joaquín Rodríguez, WSLC Director of Racial and Gender Justice — jrodriguez@wslc.org or 206-281-8901

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

From initial entry, to career transition, and when facing job loss, the WSLC's Workforce Development Department seeks to ensure universal access to portable skills and a voice in career development; continuity for those navigating the workforce system; and an economy that works for both workers and businesses. For more information, visit the Workforce Development page at wslc.org or contact WSLC Workforce Development Directors:

Emmanuel Flores — eflores@wslc.org or 360-570-5179

Chelsea Mason-Placek — cmasonplacek@wslc.org or 360-357-8736

Rachel McAloon — rmcaloon@wslc.org or 360-705-9468

Michael Pichler, Unemployment Insurance Navigator — mpichler@wslc.org or 360-338-1683

Laurel Poplack, Workforce Development Admin. Assistant — lpoplack@wslc.org

COMMITTEES

All affiliated organizations are invited to nominate members to serve on WSLC standing committees. These high-profile committees have developed national reputations. Appointment to these committees is both an honor and an obligation. Members are expected to participate in programs and quarterly meetings. Members meet about issues of concern to organized labor and help develop policy recommendations for the WSLC.

LABOR & IMMIGRATION

The Labor & Immigration Committee spearheads the WSLC's efforts to establish a robust program catering to immigrant members within Washington's labor movement. This initiative involves devising a comprehensive strategy for swift responses to raids and detentions, conducting know-your-rights trainings, and offering assistance with naturalization, visa processing, and adjustment of immigration status. Additionally, it focuses on promoting best practices for bargaining aimed at safeguarding the rights and interests of immigrant workers. Our commitment extends to championing equitable bargaining practices that prioritize the protection and empowerment of immigrant workers.

RACIAL JUSTICE

The Racial Justice Committee is actively engaged in dismantling systemic racism within the labor movement, drawing inspiration from the guiding principles outlined in the WSLC Constitution. It is steadfast in its commitment to confronting and eradicating the insidious forces that perpetuate racial inequality and division. Embracing an ethos of solidarity and inclusivity, it champions initiatives aimed at fostering a more equitable and just society. By addressing the intersecting issues of race, labor, and social justice, it strives to create a workplace environment and broader community where every individual is valued, respected, and empowered to thrive.

WOMEN'S

The Women's Committee leads the charge in advocating for the rights and empowerment of working women. With a focus on the specific challenges faced by women in the workforce, it organizes impactful workshops, providing a vital platform for discussion, education, and actionable initiatives. Committed to advancing the interests of all women, it actively supports policy advocacy across a broad spectrum of issues, including pay equity, workplace discrimination, family leave policies, and avenues for career progression. It strives to ensure that women have access to opportunities that enable them to thrive on the job and ascend to leadership roles within their unions.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

The Workforce Development Committee is dedicated to addressing the educational, training, safety, and employment needs of workers and their families in Washington state. Collaborating with state agencies and other organizations, it examines the state's economy, transportation issues, and infrastructure development to promote a robust economy supported by family-wage jobs. The committee's scope encompasses K-12 education, workforce training programs, and higher education institutions, including community and technical colleges, apprenticeship programs, and universities.
